Hi Folks,

Well there is a lot going on here at "The Mint", I doubt if I can get it all into 15 lines? Today 12/18/2017 Flo is finally back behind the counter. Two weeks ago Randy Drake started with us. With the assistance of Randy we are forming our new precious metals trading desk. Randy has nearly 40 years' experience primarily in trading and shipping precious metals. Now we have always dealt with precious metals but because of my traveling and the distractions of other business we could not always remain sharp on our pricing. Now we can with a dedicated full time trader.

With Christmas just one week away we are a little nuts around here, but all is well. Joan and I will support half of the clan on Christmas day, unfortunately the Nashville contingent cannot make it. Christina and Mark both being doctors don't always have a good holiday schedule. Rachel & Al + Kieran, Tim & Mary Susan, and our niece Jennifer & Scott + McKay will be here to celebrate. On the 29th we will take the long route via Brentwood (Nashville) Tennessee to see Chris & Mark + Jenna + Cara + Emily + Becky our 4 Granddaughters. On the 1st we head to Florida to make ready for the annual FUN show held in Tampa instead of Orlando this time.

So what do we have that is interesting in this list? First we start off with a nice selection of the ever popular and very underpriced Colonial paper money. It is amazing based on the scarcity and historical interest that these are reasonably priced. While on currency, check out the selection of fractional issue-very affordable. The Indian cents are highlighted by an 1856 Flying Eagle cent "the king of the series". We have sorted through three major groups of Buffalo nickels rounded out with 3 - 3 legged Buffs. There is a very impressive selection of earlier and popular overdate Capped Bust Halves as well. We have a hoard of Western European copper coins from an old dealer friend that recently retired. He had put these aside for years as a retirement project and we had a better offer. Wishing you all a very Merry Christmas and wonderful blessing in the New Year

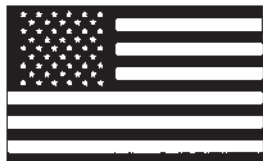

LIST 307, December 2017

Happy Collecting
